

San Diego Guide

East Village

Description: Today East Village is downtown San Diego's largest and most rapidly developing urban neighborhood. Historically, this was an area of warehouses and vacant lots until the 90s when it became a community of artists and social services. Now, East Village is home to over 700 businesses and Petco Park. The official East Village website, with more local information including a schedule of events, is <http://www.eastvillagesandiego.com>. See also <http://www.sdeastvillage.com/>

How to get there from the Hilton Bayfront: Take pedestrian bridge from the hotel across Harbor Dr.
